Kwanzaa is based on the seven principles of Kwanzaa, which are:

- Umoja (Unity): To strive for and maintain unity in the family, community, nation, and race.
- Kujichagulia (Self-Determination): To define ourselves, name ourselves, create for ourselves, and speak for ourselves.
- Ujima (Collective Work and Responsibility): To build and maintain our community together and to make our brothers' and sisters' problems our problems and to solve them together.

- Ujamaa (Cooperative Economics): To build and maintain our own stores, shops, and other businesses and to profit from them together.
- Nia (Purpose): To make our collective vocation the building and developing of our community in order to restore our people to their traditional greatness.
- Kuumba (Creativity): To do always as much as we can, in the way we can, in order to leave our community more beautiful and beneficial than we inherited it.
- Imani (Faith): To believe with all our hearts in our people, our parents, our teachers, our leaders, and the righteousness and victory of our struggle.

Kwanzaa is celebrated with a variety of activities, including:

- Lighting the kinara, a seven-branched candleholder, each night of Kwanzaa
- Feasting on traditional African-American foods
- Exchanging gifts
- Participating in cultural activities, such as drumming, dancing, and storytelling

Kwanzaa is a time for African-Americans to come together and celebrate their shared heritage and culture. It is a time to reflect on the past, present, and future, and to recommit to the principles of unity, self-determination, collective work and responsibility, cooperative economics, purpose, creativity, and faith.
